

Editorial Note

The Chulalongkorn Medical Journal has been published for 14 years. It is a quarterly issue and is published customarily in Thai. English articles, however, are at times printed. Recently, the Board of Editors has decided to publish an annual issue entirely in English for the benefit of interested medical professionals in foreign countries, as regard to progress in Medicine in Thailand. In this issue, abstracts from the previous three numbers of the same year are included. The current annual number, which is the fore-runner of its kind, is distributed to medical schools all over the world, free of charge. It is highly hope that this Journal will be of some use to our colleagues in the far-away places.

On this occasion, we wish to thank Dr. and Mrs. Walter G.J. Putschar for their helpful assistance. Dr. Putschar is a Consultant Pathologist to the World Health Organization as well as to the Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston, Massachusetts. He and his wife are currently touring the Far-East on WHO mission.

Interested readers who would like to order an extra copy of this number or the further annual issues, please contact the editor of the Chulalongkorn Medical Journal, Faculty of Medicine, Chulalongkorn University, Bangkok.
